Speech Tonight In Los Angeles Seen As Hard-Hitting

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower flies to Los Angeles today for a campaign speech billed by aides as a hard-hitting effort to bolster Republican candidates plagued by a party split.

Resuming a 5,300-mile cross-country tour after a quiet weekend, the President was pictured as ready to shift gears and do some plugging during a two-day visit in California. The state is one of the nation's major political battlegrounds this year.

Talks Tuesday In Frisco
Eisenhower's half-hour speech tonight at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles will be carried on television and radio over an 11-state Western network. Tuesday morning he will make two speeches in San Francisco before traveling on to Chicago.

If he does go to a scrapping role in California, it will be the first time since he left Washington last Friday on a six-day vote-hunting tour. In Iowa his speech was only indirectly political, and in Kansas and Colorado he made no talks whatever.

The GOP candidates in those two states had to be satisfied with not much more than photographs with the President. In Colorado, there was even a hassle over those that left the state Republican organization miffed.

On Eisenhower's arrival in Denver Saturday for a visit with his ailing mother-in-law Mrs. John S. Doud, the first to greet him at the airport was Colorado's Democratic Gov. Stephen McNichols, his wife and their five photogenic children. The GOP candidate for governor, Palmer Burch, was almost lost in the shuffle some distance back in the receiving line.

Then the Republican state chairman, Richard H. Shaw, got into an argument with White House press secretary James C. Hagerty over Shaw's insistence that the President pose for pictures at the airport with several GOP candidates. The pictures weren't taken until later in the day—in private at Eisenhower's hotel.

Hagerty over Shaw's insistence that the President pose for pictures at the airport with several GOP candidates. The pictures weren't taken until later in the day—in private at Eisenhower's hotel.

At a Washington news conference last week, Eisenhower made no direct reply when asked whether he would try in California to patch up differences between Knowland and Knight.

Traffic Snarled By Roman Strike

ROME (AP)—Employees of municipal bus and streetcar lines throughout Italy quit work today in a 24-hour strike which had the rare support of all labor unions.

Romans struggled to work — many of them late — in army trucks and private buses. Four passengers were injured in collisions of the makeshift buses. Another hit a pedestrian.

The strike, over a wage dispute, started at a minute after midnight and was to end at midnight tonight.

Church Urges Rabbi Return After Getting Bomb Threat

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Arlington's Unitarian church is inviting a Jewish rabbi to return next Sunday to deliver a sermon that was canceled by a bomb threat.

"We will not be intimidated by such threats," said the Rev. Ross Allen Weston, the church pastor, in announcing that Rabbi Emmet A. Frank "is coming back next Sunday."

Approximately 570 worshippers, including 220 Sunday school children, were evacuated from the church Sunday when an anonymous telephone caller threatened to bomb the building.

Seven Divers Hampered In Hunt For 10

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (UPI) — Divers planned to resume search today for the bodies of 10 men missing in the crash of a U. S. Navy Super Constellation in Argientia Bay, Saturday.

Eighteen of the 29 men aboard the plane were rescued from the 45-degree water, and one body was recovered.

The seven divers who were flown here from Norfolk, Va., said they found no trace of the broken fuselage in first diving attempts Sunday. Their work was called off because of heavy weather during the afternoon.

Weather conditions were expected to improve today.

The plane plunged into the water 1,000 feet short of the runway.

Its commander, Lt. Donald Arthur Becker, of Leonardtown, Md., said the aircraft actually touched down on a first approach in dense fog.

"The aircraft commander was not comfortable about the touchdown," said Koskay, "so we went around again."

On the second approach, the plane crashed 1,000 feet short of the runway.

"Then the plane hit and the nose section broke off, Becker said to me, 'let's shut this thing down and get out of here'."

The co-pilot said that was the last he heard from Becker. Koskay struggled out of a small side window and was picked up by a rescue launch some 30 minutes later.

Among those listed as missing by the Navy was AE 1 Clarence Shea, Jr., of Frostburg, Md.

Top Red Seen Russ Airliner Crash Victim

LONDON (UPI) — Conviction deepened here today that a high Soviet official may have been aboard the Soviet TU104 jet airliner which crashed last Friday, killing the 65 passengers and five or more crewmen aboard.

Radio Moscow still has not amplified its Saturday statement all aboard were dead. But Radio Peiping said there were 65 passengers aboard, 16 of them Chinese Communist officials, and the remainder non-Chinese.

Russia was silent on the identity of the victims, but the Soviet cabinet, in an unprecedented move, decreed that a top level panel should investigate the crash at Kanash, 360 miles east of Moscow. The crash came during a scheduled Peiping-Moscow flight.

Faubus Plan For Private Class Opens

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock today lays the cornerstone of a bold program to evade school integration with registration of students in a private, segregated school for white seniors.

Volunteer workers labored almost around the clock for the past three days, readying a 32-classroom building in which an estimated 500 students will realize their first opportunity to attend school this year. They will not have to pay tuition at this time.

Actual classroom work will begin Tuesday, just 39 days after Gov. Orval E. Faubus invoked a new state law to shut down public high schools in the face of an immediate integration order from the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Little Rock Private School Corp. will finance the new school with funds from public subscription.

The building, formerly occupied by a University of Arkansas graduate facility, was leased only Thursday. Desks, blackboards and other furniture were moved in over the weekend.

W. C. Brashears, school superintendent for the corporation, said classes will open later for 10th and 11th graders.

An estimated 3,600 high school students, white and Negro, were left without schools after the Faubus closing order. An estimated 900 pupils, including 200 Negroes, since have transferred to schools outside the Little Rock district.

Cardinals To Start Preparing For Vote

Pius' Funeral Services End In Holy City

Dulles At Requiem Mass For Pontiff; Wyszynski Arrives

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today began the final week of preparations for election of a new pope.

The nine days of funeral services for Pope Pius XII ended Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica with a two-hour solemn Requiem Mass attended by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and other diplomats and representatives of 50 non-Communist nations.

The arrival Sunday night of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski from Poland brought to 47 the number of princes of the church assembled in Rome for the secret conclave which will convene next Saturday to elect a new ruler of the church.

Two Blocked By Reds

By the weekend all but two of the 54 living cardinals are expected to be at the Vatican. The absentees will be Josef Mindszenty, a fugitive from Hungary's Communist government who has taken asylum in the U. S. legation in Budapest, and Alojzije Stepinac, confined to his native Yugoslav village by President Tito's government.

A thousand cheering people massed at the Rome railway station to greet 60-year-old Cardinal Wyszynski, who was kept under house arrest by the Communists for three years. The crowd included both exiles from Poland's Communist regime and representatives in Italy of that regime.

The welcome amazed the prelate, who exclaimed, "My God, I did not know I was so popular. Why? Why?" It took almost 10 minutes for police to clear a path for him to a waiting Vatican automobile.

Robed in purple, the cardinals sat in two long rows on each side of the apse area of St. Peter's for the final funeral Mass for the late Pope. Behind them were Roman and foreign nobility and representatives of the foreign governments.

President Sean O'Kelly of Ireland was the highest ranking mourner, the only chief of state present. Foreign Ministers Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany, Maurice de Merville of France and Pierre Wigny of Belgium attended for their governments. The Earl of Perth represented Queen Elizabeth II of Britain.

Spellman Assists At Mass
Dulles was accompanied by his wife and President Eisenhower's other two representatives, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, and chairman John A. McCone of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York was one of the four cardinals assisting Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, in celebration of the Mass.

The general public was not admitted, and the chanting of the Vatican choir rang through the vast emptiness of the cathedral beyond the apse.

U. S. Surprised By Chinese Red Action

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China's order ending the two-week-old Quemoy cease-fire took official Washington by complete surprise today.

The announcement by Peiping radio turned upside down the situation which caused Secretary of State Dulles to undertake a transpolar flight from Rome to Taipei this weekend to try to reach a better understanding with President Chiang Kai-shek on how to meet the Communist political offensive against Formosa.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said when told of the Peiping statement that the department would have no immediate comment.

Officials had not definitely figured out in two weeks what caused the "reds to call off their dogs" on Quemoy, said the Peiping statement over cancellation of the cease-fire seemed likely to be even greater.

Dulles decided last Tuesday to accept an invitation from President Chiang to fly to the capital of Nationalist China because, as Dulles said, he thought it vital to reach a better understanding with Chiang so that the Reds could not succeed in driving a wedge between Formosa and the United States.

The desire to break the Chinese Nationalists away from the United States was believed by Dulles to be the major objective of the Reds in carrying out their cease-fire operation.

In first announcing the cease-fire, the Reds proposed direct talks with the Formosa government.

The United States followed up by meeting Red China's demands for a halt in conveying but the Chinese Nationalists rejected the Red bid for negotiations on the grounds the cease-fire itself was some kind of trick and that no agreement with the Communists could be trusted anyway.

Dulles Tags New Attack As 'Tragedy'

Continues Flight To Formosa After Talking With Ike

By GENE KRAMER

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Reds broke their cease-fire in Formosa Strait today, pounding Quemoy for nearly three hours and then turning their guns on Tatan islet off Amoy.

On his way here for important talks, Secretary of State Dulles said it was a tragedy the Communists had again displayed their "warlike disposition." He made the statement during a refueling stop for his jet tanker at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Return Red Fire
The Nationalists on Quemoy, amply supplied during the nearly 15-day cease-fire, returned the Red fire. The Communist artillery caught four Nationalist supply ships in the Quemoy beach area—three LSTs and one Navy transport. There was no word on whether any were hit.

The Red guns blazed at Quemoy for 2 hours and 45 minutes, then halted. Eighty minutes later, they opened up on Tatan, a 96-acre islet, 2 1/2 miles south of Amoy.

The Chinese Communists said they were suspending their cease-fire—scheduled to end next Sunday—because U. S. warships had conveyed Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy. U. S. officials denied it.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists had resumed shelling at 4 p. m., 50 minutes after Peiping Radio had broadcast orders canceling the cease-fire. The Communists announced a week ago that their self-imposed hold-fire had been extended to midnight next Sunday.

The Nationalists said they had waited one hour after the Communists began shooting, then opened fire.

A Nationalist spokesman said the Red bombardment was not so heavy as on Aug. 23, when the offshore war began with an intense two-hour bombardment. During that initial attack 41,000 Communist rounds were fired, killing 18 civilians and wounding 18 on Quemoy and causing more than 200 military casualties.

Poses Problem For Dulles
The abrupt development raised grave new problems for U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, flying by jet tanker over the North Polar route to Formosa. His mission was to clear up misunderstandings with Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek and lay the base for a more substantial cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

Red Chinese Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai gave as his reason for resuming the bombardment a charge that U. S. warships had encroached on Chinese territorial waters Sunday night in escorting Nationalist ships to Quemoy.

"Shelling must therefore be resulted as a measure of punishment," the Communist order said. The U. S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command declared the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Butler Bids Disgruntled Democrats Leave Party

President Eisenhower carried his election efforts toward California today while other campaign-ers argued about his foreign policy and its place in the political debate.

A stepped-up weekend tempo also found Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler virtually inviting those Democrats who disagree sharply with the party's civil rights program to get out of the Democratic party. He said they could "take political asylum" in the Republican party or a third party.

With the congressional election campaign moving into its final two weeks, Eisenhower speaks tonight in Los Angeles and Tuesday in San Francisco in what the White House said would be a hard-hitting explanation of Republican accomplishments.

N. Y. Police Seek Motive In Crazy Cop's Killings

NEW YORK (AP)—What deadly impulse drove policeman James McDermott to the cold-blooded slaughter of four men in a Broadway restaurant?

Did he bear a grudge against the victims? One was a convicted loan shark and two of the others also had police records.

Had he been drinking?

Police investigated these angles today to try to uncover some explanation for the 34-year-old patrolman's violent outburst Sunday in the Pic-a-Rib Restaurant.

McDermott himself could not supply the answers immediately. He lay speechless in critical condition on a hospital bed. His body was riddled with five bullet wounds inflicted by other policemen, who waged a spectacular gun duel with him on midtown streets as he fled.

Two of the capturing policemen were from McDermott's home precinct.

McDermott, married and the father of four, was off duty when he entered the restaurant on Broadway near 53rd Street about 1:45 a. m. A few minutes later, without warning, he drew two guns and blazed away at helpless patrons. Four men fell mortally wounded.

McDermott crashed through the glass paneling of a door and fled. Pursuing policemen opened fire, hitting him five times. He returned the fire, wounding one of the pursuers, before he collapsed.

Unconscious, about three blocks from the restaurant, McDermott had a clean record, including one commendation, during his 10 years on the force. Neighbors described him as a conscientious father and churchgoer. Fellow policemen recalled he was a "nice, pleasant guy."

Officials said McDermott had been under medical treatment since December 1957, when he was injured in the collision of a radio car with a truck. Two weeks ago, he underwent X-ray examinations after complaining of persistent headaches.

His four victims all died in hospitals. They were:

Edmund Leahy, 53, of Manhattan, a stevedore who recently served a prison sentence for loan sharking. His record also shows fines for gambling and bookmaking convictions.

Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55, of Manhattan, an usher at Madison Square Garden, once arrested for alleged burglary but released with the charge dismissed.

Lawrence Davion, Mount Vernon, N. Y., known as "Larry the Barber," who carried papers listing two other names—Larry Jenkins and Frank Anderson. Davion's police record, dating from 1933, includes a jail term for altering identification marks on an automobile, a bookmaking fine and two other arrests.

Eugene Cronin, 60, Jersey City, N. J. Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm was asked if there was evidence that McDermott had been involved with a loan shark, and he replied: "We have nothing to go on, but we are investigating that angle as well as all other angles."

Neighbors said McDermott had given up drinking about five years ago.

McDermott was charged with homicide and suspended from the force.

Cuban Reds Hit In Vote Boycott

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government's bureau for repression of Communist activities declared Sunday Communists are attempting to create chaos in an effort to break up general elections scheduled Nov. 3.

The bureau, reporting to a special court, said Communists were clandestinely urging a boycott of the polls.

It added that documents seized in raids revealed Cuban Reds had "received instructions from Moscow ordering intensification of all acts of terrorism and sabotage." The bureau said they were directed to concentrate attacks against American and British properties and to attempt assassination of members of the armed forces and election candidates.

In escorting Nationalist supply ships to Quemoy, U.S. warships have stayed three miles or more off Quemoy, the limit of territorial waters recognized by the United States. However, Red China claims a 12-mile limit.

In announcing the first cease-fire, effective at midnight on Sunday, Oct. 5, the Red Chinese said a condition was that the United States halt its escorts.

Pope's Doctor To Face Medical Group Charges

BULLETIN

ROME (UPI)—Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi was stripped of his Vatican posts and barred from Vatican City today because he sold for publication an intimate and detailed account of the last hours of Pope Pius XII.

ROME (UPI)—The Rome Medical Association meets today to decide whether Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi violated professional ethics by writing newspaper and magazine articles describing the death agonies of Pope Pius XII.

Galeazzi-Lisi, 67, the Pope's physician for a quarter of a century, was with him when he died in the papal summer palace at Castel Gandolfo. His articles on the Pope's last moments created one of the greatest controversies in recent years for Italy and the Vatican.

It already was clear that Galeazzi-Lisi would not serve as official doctor to the secret conclave of the College of Cardinals meeting next Saturday to elect a new pope.

Galeazzi-Lisi was under fire from the Italian press which attacked him with an apparent disregard of the possibility of libel. The newspapers called him a "quack" a "man without scruples" and said he had "betrayed them all — the Pope, medicine, the doctors' moral code and the public."

A spokesman for the Medical Association said disciplinary action could range from a reprimand to expulsion from the medical ranks. Expulsion would prevent Galeazzi-Lisi from further practice of medicine.

Nuclear Age Guinea Pig: Wicomico County Has Role In Defense Setup

SALISBURY (AP)—Maryland's Wicomico County became a guinea pig of the nuclear age yesterday. It is one of 25 counties in the nation selected to set up a pilot program aimed at preparing civilians for a possible attack.

Wicomico got its program underway yesterday, when representatives of some 40 organizations gathered to hear the details. County defense officials said the aim is to have at least a third of 10,000 homes in the county prepared for survival in the event of an attack. If more than a third comply, so much the better.

The program calls on the home to prepare for a possible attack by having a special food supply on hand, plus first aid equipment, and emergency lights, a battery-operated radio, emergency cooking equipment and other items. Word of the program will be spread through the 40 organizations.

Shirley Ewing, State director of civilian defense, told the group that a severe attack on Baltimore could produce fall-out which might kill many in Wicomico.

Car Dealer Head Hits Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dean Chaffin, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, described the federal excise tax on new automobiles as 10 per cent luxury tax "for a human necessity preceded only by food, clothing and shelter."

Chaffin urged auto dealers and motorists to campaign for removal of the tax as the "quickest and most direct method of reducing the cost of a new car." He said the tax was imposed to discourage auto buying during wartime and "these conditions do not apply now."

CURBED DETERMINATION—A nasty old curb was only a temporary obstacle to little two-year-old Sue Viney on her way to the "Sun n' Soil Festival" in Frankfort, Ind. Sue hauled a wagonload of harvest items (including a bowl of goldfish) to the Kiddies Parade at the countywide event, held to give thanks for a bountiful harvest. Her efforts were rewarded, for she won first prize in the decorated wagon division of the parade.

Housekeeper, 28, Assaulted

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—A Dorchester County woman told police a man dragged her from her home during the weekend, drove her to a nearby wooded area and raped her.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Joseph Klopp said Marjorie Hickman, 28, described her assailant only as a tall, young Negro. He said Miss Hickman is a housekeeper for laborer Frank (Pete) Henry, about 60, who lives on a lonely country road near Cabin Creek, four miles south of Hurluck.

The deputy quoted Henry that he was awakened by barking dogs about 3 a.m. Saturday and saw someone crawling alongside the house. Then, Henry related, someone kicked in the front door, hit him on the head and dragged the woman from the house.

Klopp quoted Miss Hickman that the man held her captive about half an hour before attacking her, then left her in the woods, where she spent the remainder of the night because of fright.

Football Coach Is Sore All Over

PORTLAND, Ind. (UPI)—Portland High School football Coach Glen Bryant walked 21 of the 22 miles from Hartford City home Sunday and rode the last mile on a burro to fulfill a promise to his players when they finished their schedule undefeated Saturday.

Bryant said he'd been plied by sandwiches by local farmers and "had a ball. But I'm sore and stiff all over."

Drydock Workers Return

BALTIMORE (AP)—Employees began returning to work at Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. today after voting to accept a new contract including a 31-cent hourly wage increase.

The vote yesterday ended a strike of about 1,500 workers—members of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers—that began Sept. 12. Wages vary slightly among classifications but the old first class mechanic scale was $2.54 an hour.

The company said 800 workers still on the job when the strike started would be called back first. Others will return as needs increase, the company said.

Francis J. Plegman, president of Local 31, said 17 cents of the increase is retroactive to last Aug. 15; another six cents will be paid in January, and the remaining eight cents will take effect next August.

The old contract expired last Aug. 31. The new agreement extends to Aug. 31, 1960.

Japanese Women Join Labor Force

By GAY PAULEY

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese woman's place, once strictly in the home, increasingly also is in business, industry, office, and government.

I discussed the new role of Japan's women with Mrs. Setsu Tanino who as director of the Women's and Minors' Bureau of the Ministry of Labor is the highest ranking woman in this nation's government.

Mrs. Tanino, a widow of 50, said the increase of women in the labor force has been astonishingly fast since World War II and the 1947 constitution which guaranteed women equal pay for equal work, with men.

At the close of the war, she said, approximately two million women held jobs, mostly in factories. Today, more than six million are wage earners, making up almost one third of Japan's total labor force of 20 million. Twenty per cent are working wives, compared with 10 per cent when the war ended.

Women Joining Professions. She said the number of women factory workers is decreasing because of mechanization of industries. But women are becoming lawyers, taking banking jobs, jobs in retailing, becoming beauticians, stenographers, typists, clerks, architects, draftsmen, and accountants, and selling insurance and real estate.

There are some 9,000 women doctors, 250,000 nurses, 260,000 teachers, and some 170,000 in government jobs. The Japanese Diet (Parliament) has 15 women in the upper house—compared to the one woman in the U.S. Senate—and nine in the lower.

Women also work as conductors on streetcars and buses, and many operate tiny shoeshine stands along Tokyo streets.

Do Japanese men approve of working women in a society where traditionally their role has been in the home?

"Well," Mrs. Tanino smiled,

"they treat us as equals... accept us... when we're past 30."

Explains Increase. Mrs. Tanino was graduated with a degree in social studies from Japan Women's College in 1927 and started her long government career with the Ministry of Interior. She moved to the Ministry of Labor when it was formed in 1947, and was appointed to her present job three years ago.

She gave these reasons for the steady increase in women workers: —Emancipation of her sex, with the constitution's equal rights provision; —Post-war inflation, which meant the father no longer could be the sole support of the family; —The war years themselves, when womanpower was a must, and the stigma previously put on the working woman was removed; —New educational opportunities. Before the war most universities were closed to women; to be educated, a girl had to attend a private school. Now most universities are open to women.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

“Lead Time”

THE PHRASE “lead time” is one the military commonly uses to describe the length of the period between the first designing of a weapon or plane or ship and the actual production of the item for use. One of the marks of the post-World War II age is that lead time has been stretching out. As the weapons and devices of war have grown steadily more complex, so has their planning and production become more intricate and difficult. The result is an inevitable slowing down. This means, of course, that those who are entrusted with long-range planning of our defenses have a graver responsibility than ever before. They must show extraordinary alertness to the swiftly changing needs of the future. They must be able to project their thinking imaginatively into a period ahead whose problems can be only broadly foreseen.

A GOOD MANY U. S. leaders are aware of this necessity. Not so generally realized, however, is the fact that “lead time” has become a factor to reckon with in many fields of life outside the defense realm. A thoughtful politician took note of this recently. He pointed out that in the matter of highways, schools, hospitals, general urban planning, industrial layout and expansion and many others it is taking longer and longer to translate plans into reality. There is thus increasing danger that when the plans are carried out they will already be out of date. This has already happened with highways and schools in many areas. With population due to shoot up another 50 million in less than 20 years, the problem of making plans big enough to fit the country is becoming acute.

THE PREMIUM today is upon planners who have the foresight to project American life not simply 10 or 20 but 30 to 50 years ahead. This may seem an impossible feat, but it has got to be tried. Maybe we need a whole new science of long-range planning. Certainly, in the light of our headlong growth, it is reasonable to suggest that we might review all of our present-day planning notions. By the test of adequacy many are not measuring up. With 175 million people now crowding America and another 50 million coming, we dare not think small. Inadequate planning in the face of these numbers would amount to a surrender to chaos.

A Look At Politics

THERE ARE TWO fundamentally different ways for a voter to behave during a campaign. One is to become so involved, emotionally as well as intellectually, that the most outlandish statements are taken as gospel if a man of the listener's party utters them. The other way is to be constantly aware that a yen to win often causes politicians to wobble on the chalkline of truth. The latter method may seem a bit cold-blooded. It need not be. In fact, it can be rather fun. One of the best ways of maintaining the awareness mentioned, and thus tempering the winds of oratory, is to laugh at the political nips of the candidates and strategists in both parties. It is amusing to note, for example, how Democratic and Republican attitudes toward the pre-election polls change with the times. Just now the Democrats think the polls are great stuff because most of the surveys hint at a Democratic upset, come November. Some of the same Democrats were loud in their scorn of such straw votes after the pollsters came a cropper on their 1948 forecast that Truman would lose. Back in the pre-election days of 1948, the Republicans swore by the polls. Now that the straw votes suggest GOP trouble ahead, the Republicans are discovering solemnly that public opinion surveys don't mean much, after all. Look at 1948: A little healthy skepticism, an inclination to examine political pills before swallowing them with a draft of oratory—these are wise attitudes for voters to cling to. An emotional jag that scorns objectivity and thrives on exaggerated partisanship may be satisfying, but it may also lead to a post-election hangover.

Nixon Brands Demos As “War Party”

WASHINGTON—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is now clearly embarked upon an effort to avert a Republican rout this fall by branding Democrats the war party and Republicans the party of peace.

It is not inconceivable that his strategy might be effective. The time is short. The long-run risks are great. He will be the slave of chance in the Formosa Straits. He cannot be sure that Red China will continue the cease-fire which alone makes possible the Nixon effort to portray the Quemoy-Matsu situation as a victory.

But in connection with what Red China may do, it must be remembered that the Vice-President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, also a deeply partisan politician, are closer than ham and eggs. Nixon talks to Dulles every day and telephones him night and morning on the Nixon travels.

THE SECRETARY knows what is being said in those negotiations on the Formosa Straits between the United States ambassador to Poland and the Red Chinese spokesmen. It can be assumed that Nixon knows, too, and feels the ground is firm beneath his feet. Dulles naturally prefers the Nixon position that the Dulles

’58 Elections May Change Ike’s Program

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There’s a lot more to these November elections than deciding which party will control the next Congress and by how much—though that’s plenty important.

The whole nature of the Eisenhower program for the next two years will be altered by the election results. Eisenhower's first term was marked by orthodox Republican retrenchment and reform. When he began his second term with his program of New Republicanism, many of the Old Guard backed away from him. Even the Democratic majority in Congress went somewhat conservative in the economy wave of 1957.

Whether this had anything to do with bringing on the recession is doubtful. But the political effect of the recession was that the Democrats again went liberal. They embarked on spending programs that the White House had to fight off with a more conservative line.

REPUBLICAN headquarters here is now campaigning on a charge that Democratic victory in November would bring back the New Deal, the Fair Deal, or worse.

Such a development would again force the Republicans back on the ultra-conservative side. And that might end forever President Eisenhower's dream of making over the GOP into a more modern party, with more progressive ideas.

Just as interesting will be some of the side issues that will determine political trends for the next few years. The vote in the farm belt states will be worth watching to see whether there is endorsement or rejection of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's program.

The GOP line is that farmers are in prosperous condition now, with higher prices and bumper crops.

But a Democratic sweep would almost certainly be followed by proposals for extensive farm legislation revision in the next Congress.

NEW YORK—The cliché with the worn look and the slightly tattered edges is that one that says anything can happen to you in New York. Now I believe it. How many places in the United States can you walk idly and casually down an avenue and end up holding in your hand a rock that was once part of a dinosaur's digestive machinery? A little, smooth rock about 540 million years old?

TRUDY EDERLE and I walked a few blocks down Sixth Avenue the other afternoon and when she left, at 48th Street, I thought I'd keep walking on down to 44th and look at some etchings in windows; the newest thing in molybdenum girders and what the Time-Life building was getting to be, although all of its 49 stories are not yet up.

The etchings were fine and the magazine building was in steel to the 31st floor. I ran into a young fellow betrothed to Ambassador John Hay Whitney's stepdaughter, Kate, and into a few other fellows and then I came to a small window filled with enormous butterflies on pins, beetles as big as Volkswagen and dinosaur gizzard stones.

You think those chickens in your back yard aren't related to dinosaurs? They certainly are. They have the curve of neck and head, scaly legs and feet and gizzard stones. The dinosaur ones, however, are larger.

INSIDE, there was a learned and charming man named Sol Rasmussen who was up to his ears in practical, portable science. He had fossilized shark's teeth 300 million years old, dinosaur prints, gizzard stones, rubies 100 million years old and model rockets complete with fuel and stages that drop off as the rocket soars to 300 feet or more.

Also beetles, bugs, books on snakes, books on Mars, books on prehistoric creatures and preserved things ranging from algae to fungi to bryophyte. As well as sea creatures from the Cambrian seas and the Jurassic swamps. I would not have been amazed if he had a unicorn, but he didn't.

Bad Sinuses And Vinegar

WASHINGTON—I don't even know how to start this story about Pat Jones and the cider vinegar. At the beginning, probably, is best.

Virgil Carrington Jones, known to his friends hereabouts as Pat, is Washington manager of the Curtis Publishing Co. He's also a Civil War buff, author of several books about the war between the states, and the unfortunate sufferer for the past 10 years from sinus trouble.

MOST OF this time he barely could breathe, while his doctor bills for washing out his sinuses periodically were horrendous. His condition became so serious that his physician ordered up a hospital room for an operation next week.

So there was Pat with his stuffed-up head, feeling sorry for himself and worrying about that hole the sawbones intended to cut in him, when he received from Henry Holt and Co., his publisher, a note asking him if he'd like for his souvenirs the original manuscript and a set of the proofs of his latest book, “Eight Hours Before Richmond.” Pat said he'd be pleased.

SOON THERE arrived at his office a large bundle containing his manuscript, all right. But some unthinking one in New York had enclosed the wrong proofs. What he found spread on his desk was a set of proof sheets from another author, Dr. D. C. Jarvis, entitled “Folk Medicine.”

That particular morning Pat's head hurt so much he couldn't even smile. But Mrs. June Marshall, his secretary, got interested in Dr. Jarvis' book, which concerned the way the folks doctoring themselves in Vermont a century and a half ago. They noted that cows when feeling poorly always nibbled special varieties of grasses; they tried these same greens on themselves.

Eventually they established a rural pharmacopoeia, with cures for practically every ill, and it was all this that Dr. Jarvis put on paper. In thumbing through the manuscript, Mrs. Marshall came upon a section concerning sinus troubles. She urged that

S.S. BRASIL (at sea)—You don't have to ride a rocket into outer space today to “get away from it all.”

You can do it more comfortably and successfully by taking a cruise.

The tensions of ordinary life ashore begin to disappear as soon as the ship pulls away from the pier.

You fret briefly over whether you brought the right kind of clothes. You are a bit uneasy over whether you'll get a good seat in the dining room, or a deck chair in the right location.

But in another day all these minor doubts disappear. You find out that as long as you dress sensibly and don't try to storm the dining room in a Bikini, it makes little real difference what you wear or where you sit.

The sea breeze is like a benediction, cleansing your mind and soul of its accumulated land-grime and pettiness of thought and action.

THE ENDLESS immensity of wave and sky has a curious double effect on you. It sobers you with a realization of how small a thing man is physically in comparison with the giant forces of nature.

At the same time it lifts you spiritually, and you sense that in some wonderful way, you are an eternal part of something larger than yourself. It is as if the sea had become a church.

The modern oceangoing liner is like a floating city, deliberately designed to make everyone happy.

So this two-block-long vessel was designed to wall out worries and wall in as many comforts as possible. The Brasil is a miniature metropolis, air-conditioned throughout—so you can pick your own climate.

There is something to appeal to all members of the family. There are two swimming pools, one for adults, one for children. The kids have a special playground and a wired-in play space on deck with a slide and sand box. The teen-agers also have their own entertainment room, equipped with a juke box and a soda fountain.

A ROOM THAT pleasantly surprised many of the grownup passengers is a bar lounge in which a rye and water costs 20 cents, bourbon on the rocks 25 cents, scotch and soda 30 cents. Imported beer costs 30 cents a bottle.

“Everybody is drinking as if he were afraid it would go out of style,” said one wag, pointing out that it was inevitable since a chocolate nut sundae cost 35 cents—and nobody can afford ice cream.

But after becoming convinced the ship wouldn't run dry, even the serious drinkers have settled down to their normal intake.

Southward we plough under serene skies by day, through tropical waters phosphorescent by night. Nobody troubles about the hydrogen bomb, there are no political speeches to listen to, and who misses television when he can look up at the stars?

There is a phone in the room, but it doesn't ring. There are no traffic jams, no parking problems, no trains to catch, and to the best of my knowledge no one aboard ship has been hit by a taxicab.

Peace in a wide, wide sea—it's wonderful. Sometimes I wonder how life is going with all the poor folks tied to the land.

NEW YORK—The latest, admittedly unofficial, figures show this year there were more naive, restless and unarmored young girls drifting wide-eyed into New York than ever before.

They left the white organdie curtains and the protesting parents and the big-eared boyfriend who wasn't quite good enough.

And for what?

“For a lot of living—aimless living that's mistaken for glamor,” said Rona Jaffe, an expert on such matters.

“They left home for a loneliness. For a place in which people are in too much a hurry to live. For a rat race. For—” and Miss Jaffe leered prettily—“the opportunity to know a lot of phony people and think it's a big deal.”

“Miss Jaffe, having just purged herself of a few puritanical words of advice, settled back with a sigh. “The little girls, the unsophisticated ones, shouldn't come to New York. They will go through horrors. They will learn that life is not so simple, and that it is not the good girls who necessarily get the rewards...”

“But, oh, they'll have such a lovely time suffering!”

RONA, A NATIVE New Yorker, is considered an authority on the fate of small town girls in Gotham by virtue of the fact that, at the age of 26, she has written a best-seller about same.

It is called “The Best of Everything,” and besides royalties of 67½ cents per book—$1,000 is the current printing—she gets $100,000 for movie rights.

The book is making her wealthy for two simple reasons: Puritan people outside New York consider it sexy and shocking; and experienced people inside New York consider it honest and true.

“I hope it doesn't discourage the genuinely smart and talented girls from coming here,” says Rona. “But it may save heartaches for the angels who shouldn't dare to tread.”

In her novel, “which actually is almost fact,” there are five young women who cope with the problems of life in the big time. The chief stumbling block, for the naive ones, is overcoming—with a clear conscience—the advances of older men endowed with a yen for fresh young faces.

“HER BOSS ISN'T really the problem for the new girl in New York,” says Rona. “A boss looks upon his own employee—as a secretary, anyway—as part of the office furniture.”

“It's somebody else's boss a girl has to look out for; somebody else's boss in the same company or office. She is young and eligible and he, of course, is entranced with her youth and eligibility. So they start meeting for drinks after work.”

“They have something in common. She thinks it's their work. He thinks what they have in common is the fact that he's a man and she's a woman. Then there's trouble.”

If small-town girls were only smart enough to realize that this sort of “glamor trap” has snared the Mary Lous of the land since the great white way was a dull spark, they would skim through life hereabouts and realize that New York's a wonderful place to live, if confusing to visit.

Machine-Age Branches Out In Business

More Paper Work Occurs During Both Recession, Recovery

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Paper work mounts in recession or recovery. And machines and methods for handling or thwarting it fascinate businessmen almost as much as coming jaunts into outer space.

As the making of business gadgets prospers, foreign makers of equipment are invading this market, and more American companies are branching out into dictating machines or computers.

The competition has grown markedly for orders from businessmen bowed under the weight of paper work and the growing cost of clerical staffs, and seeking more efficient machines, and if possible cheaper ones.

Of the 370 exhibits at the National Business Show opening here Monday, 10 per cent are by foreign manufacturers, and their exhibits cover 14 per cent of the five acres of display space, or just about double the foreign sector of last year's show.

Foreign equipment runs from inks, dictating machines, adders and calculators, to duplicating and copying machines, typewriters, telephones and telephonic equipment.

American competitors note that their foreign rivals have learned three sales gimmicks. This year the foreign products look more like American ones in style and color. Their promotion through booklets and catalogs is very much along American lines. And they have taken a leaf from the foreign car makers and are now stressing service to overcome the former doubts of customers as to problems of getting parts and repairs.

Into the field are coming more American competitors, too. A company long known for radio and TV sets is using the show to introduce its new computer. Another company best known for its medical and dental equipment is introducing a magazine-loaded dictating machine.

Other manufacturers exhibiting in the show are more widely known as makers of paper products, photographic equipment, or adhesive tape.

The chief style revolution this year among basic office machines—the typewriters, adders, dictation gadgets—is to make them as small as efficiency permits, as easy to operate as can be, and as portable as possible.

D'Alessandro, Butler Agree On One Thing

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.), and Democratic Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore may be on opposite sides of the political fence. But they agree on at least one issue.

Butler and the mayor both issued statements this weekend calling on city voters to approve public loans for the Charles Center project in downtown Baltimore. The center is part of the city's redevelopment program.

Fisher Body Plant 18-Day Strike Ends

BALTIMORE (AP)—Marathon negotiating sessions at the General Motors Fisher Body plant began last night after workers at the neighboring Chevrolet plant ended their 18-day walkout.

Maintenance workers were recalled to the Chevrolet plant at midnight and most of the approximately 1,500 strikers are expected to be back on the job by tomorrow.

Louis G. Jeffries, head of the bargaining committee for Local 678 of the United Auto Workers, said 94 per cent of the members voted yesterday to accept both the national and local agreements with General Motors.

Jeffries said the local agreement wipes out wage inequities between the Baltimore plant and other plants in 22 job classifications, with workers receiving three to seven cents an hour more. The union had sought equalization in 40 classifications.

Recovery In Steelmaking Industry Hits Rapid Stride Despite Strikes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Steelmaking operations will reach 85 per cent of capacity before year end despite spot strikes in the auto industry which are affecting car production and delaying steel orders, Steel Magazine predicted today.

Signs of recovery are so compelling that even conservative producers are getting bullish, the metal working weekly said. A few weeks ago, 75 per cent was the most optimistic forecast.

Steelmakers who challenged the prediction that 1959 output would be at least 110 million ingot tons are beginning to accept that estimate, but they don't think peak operations next year will exceed 90 per cent. They cite the fact that about 10 per cent of the industry's capacity is obsolete.

Producers won't use high cost facilities unless they have to, and demand won't require 100 per cent operations unless hedging against a threatened steel strike starts.

Labor troubles in the auto industry are holding auto assemblers to less than half of what they were a year ago. But Steel's industrial production index is at a 1958 peak and stands within three points of where it was a year ago. The figure is based on steel output, electric power output, freight car loadings and auto assemblies.

With many plants still strike-bound, automakers were ordering steel sparingly and asking suppliers to delay shipments. It was estimated that General Motors has delayed about two weeks tonnage, mostly cold-rolled sheets.

Demand for the light, flat-rolled items is so great that many mills are running close to capacity. The leading consumers are automotive, appliance and container industries.

Cold-rolled sheet producers are booked for November and into December. Pipe sales are spotty. Oil producers, hard-pressed for cash, are buying only what is indispensable and rely on distributors for quick delivery.

Hol-rolled carbon bars are once again in demand. Automakers, converters and fastener manufacturers are among the most active buyers.

When the recession began, consumers cut steel inventories drastically. Now with the first signs of better business, they are hastily re-building stocks. The stockpile was about 1,997,000 net tons of steel, largest of any week since that ended Nov. 3, 1957.

Producers reloaded additional scrap prices lagged. Last week, furnaces last week to push the in-the-trade magazine's composite on the prime grade held at $42.33. A scrap price of $43.

Weeks Plans To Leave His Cabinet Post

Commerce Chief May Go Back To Farm By Yearend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks is strongly considering resigning his cabinet post, quite possibly by the end of the year.

He told friends over the weekend that he is leaning hard toward the idea of moving back to his New Hampshire farm, but has reached no final decision.

Mrs. Weeks, the former Jane Tompkins Rankin, has not been well lately and is said to favor leaving Washington.

Weeks, 65, is one of the four remaining members of the original Eisenhower cabinet of 1953. The others are Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Weeks has said publicly that if he did not remain in office until the President's second term expires in 1961, he would quit early enough to give his successor a chance to learn the job and make a record for himself. A new cabinet member cannot very well do that in much less than two years.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Regularity In Exercise Not Detriment To Heart

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has come through with clear although complicated proof that men who exercise regularly are less likely to have heart attacks and "strokes" than men who don't.

That is what countless physicians have been waiting for before really raising a hob with the sit-down living habits of countless aging males. It had long been suspected on the basis of statistical evidence.

To get the physical proof in human bodies, Prof. H. W. Fullerton, long a world leader in scientific efforts to understand the blood chemistry which leads to heart attacks and "strokes," first devised super-sensitive measurements of the clotting times of blood.

Then he and his associate, Dr. G. A. McDonald, applied the measurements to healthy young medical students. On test days they reported to the testers fresh from a night's sleep, with empty stomachs. Blood was drawn for test-tube measurements of clotting-times and then they were given a breakfast of eggs, bacon, and ample butter for the toast.

Three and a half hours later, more blood was drawn for more test tube measurements of clotting times. The breakfast was high on fats, and meals high in fats will make the blood more readily clottable while the meal is being digested. But that is the kind of meal most people have—three times a day.

The test-days of the young men were divided between strictly sit-down mornings during which they exerted themselves physically only to the extent of walking from one class room to another, and exercise mornings when after breakfast they walked three miles, rested a while, and then walked another three miles.

Their blood at the end of a sit-down morning clotted much more quickly and readily than at the end of an exercise morning. Blood clots naturally, of course. The scientists measured the effects of the high-fats breakfast as an "acceleration" of normal clotting time. The exercise all but "abolished" this acceleration, they found.

The meanings of this is rather clear when you keep in mind that blood clots in blood vessels of heart or brain causes a block of blood flow which produces heart attack or stroke. In reporting to the technical journal, "The Lancet," the scientists said other things than blood chemistry were involved, such as heredity. But men may exercise or not exercise, as they choose; heredity they have to take.

They stressed the necessity of regularity in exercise.

Tornado Hits Florida Area; Negro Killed

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A sneak tornado belted this tranquil farming town Sunday with fury that left one dead, 16 injured and $400,000 damage in splintered homes, equipment and communications.

The twister lashed first at the airport, a mile west of Pahokee. Nine crop-dusting planes were wrecked. One of them sailed 500 feet across a road.

"It rolled up my four planes like a ball," said Jack Phillips.

Two rows of migrant farm workers' homes collapsed.

One house was blown more than 400 feet. Its wreckage yielded the body of John Gray, 70-year-old Negro laborer.

James E. Feeney Named Accountant For Plant

James E. Feeney, Cresaptown, has been promoted to plant accountant at the Point Pleasant Plant of Celanese Corporation of America, according to W. E. Crooks, Amcelle plant manager.

He graduated from West Virginia University where he majored in accounting and business administration. He was president of Epsilon Lambda Sigma, accounting honorary fraternity. Feeney will assume his new duties on December 1 and will move his wife and four children to Point Pleasant in the near future.

Reuther Leery Of Opportunist Nixon

CHICAGO (UPI) — United Auto Workers' President Walter Reuther said Sunday he was leery of Vice President Richard M. Nixon as a possible presidential choice because he has a "streak of opportunism that bothers me."

Reuther accused the vice president of "juggling with the figures" in contending that American workers have been better off under the Republican administration of President Eisenhower.

In a televised news conference Sunday, Reuther said Chief Justice Earl Warren, a Republican, and a half a dozen Democrats, including Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, would be acceptable to labor as presidential candidates.

Queen Elizabeth At Church Event

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth and other members of the royal family took part Sunday in the dedication of the rebuilt Old Church of St. Clement Dane's, which gave its name to the Elizabethan nursery rhyme, "Oranges and lemons say the bells at St. Clement's."

The three-century-old church, destroyed in 1942 by a German bomb, was reconsecrated as central chapel of the Royal Air Force. The $30,000 organ used in the inaugural services was donated by U. S. airmen in Britain.

Turkey Check Points Listed For West Virginia Season

ROMNEY — The West Virginia Conservation Commission again has set up checking stations throughout the area open to wild turkey hunting. Successful hunters are required by law to make a written report to the Director of Conservation or to local conservation officers, within 10 days from the date of kill.

Hunters are urged to check their turkeys at one of these stations where it will be aged, sexed and weighed. This will supply the research division with information and relieve the hunter of the responsibility of reporting the kill in writing.

The turkey checking stations in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle include:

State Expands Plan Started In Panhandle

ROMNEY — The farm game program started experimentally in 1948 in District 2 by the Game Management Division of the West Virginia Conservation Commission has spread to a statewide program.

In District 2, which covers the Eastern Panhandle counties, 550 landowners now cooperate in the program.

During 1958, George Lewis of Romney game management aide, made 237 deliveries of plants and materials to cooperators. The deliveries consisted of 36,000 mixed conifers, 50,000 multiflora roses, 7,500 wildflower shrubs. Food patches planted totaled 175 acres.

The total acreage within the program totals 122,677.

The number of cooperators by counties are Berkeley, 81; Grant, 55; Hampshire, 166; Hardy, 46; Jefferson, 36; Mineral, 76; Morgan, 58, and Pendleton 32.

Police Solve Robberies Of Gas Stations

ROMNEY — The local detachment of West Virginia State Police have solved the breaking and entering of two area service stations, according to Sgt. W. Frank Bowley, who said two young men are involved.

Being held are Robert Smith, 22, and a 17-year-old youth, both of Petersburg, Sgt. Bowley explaining that the two have admitted to breaking in a service station at Augusta on October 8, and one on State Route 23 near Romney three nights later.

The young men are being held in Petersburg jail where Smith is charged with another breaking and entering offense, and the juvenile is awaiting a hearing on a misdemeanor charge that occurred in Moorefield.

Sgt. Bowley said windows were broken to gain entry to both service stations. Cigars and cigarettes were taken in each instance, the detachment commander said, adding that three rifles were also stolen from the Augusta business, while shells and a shotgun were taken from the service station on Route 23.

The three weapons and some cigars have been recovered. Prosecution on the Hampshire County charges will be held up pending disposition of the counts pending against the young men, Sgt. Bowley said.

Missing After Plane Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — L. W. Foster, 56-year-old Red Cross worker from Annapolis, was among those listed as missing after a Navy Constellation plane crashed at Newfoundland Saturday.

Foster, who has been with the Red Cross since 1944, was returning to his duties at Argentina, Newfoundland after a leave.

Mrs. Foster lives in Annapolis. Their two children are Mrs. Janet Henton of Akron, Ohio and Robert Foster, a missionary in Tokyo.

New Jersey's Election
Close, Interest Lagging

By JOHN KOLESAR
TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's U.S. Senate candidates look as though they were picked by a Hollywood casting director. But the campaign has been no hit at the box office.

The whole thing has party heads on both sides baffled. It figures to be a very close election. But no crowds, no heat and not much voter interest have shown so far.

Running for the Republicans is U.S. Rep. Robert W. Kean, 65-year-old veteran congressman and millionaire investment banker with a U.S. Senate tradition in his family. His gray hair, almost white mustache and dignified carriage conform to one of the popular ideas of what a senator looks like.

Opposing Kean is Harrison A. Williams Jr., 38-year-old lawyer and former congressman. Dark-haired and boyish-looking, Williams personifies the young, liberal Democratic candidate.

They are battling for the seat being vacated by Sen. H. Alexander Smith, 78-year-old Republican who is retiring.

Kean's 20-year record in Congress has been the main battleground. He backs the Eisenhower foreign policy, favors economy in government and speaks often with pride about Social Security law amendments he has sponsored.

Williams, who often backed Eisenhower's foreign policy when he was in Congress from 1954 to 1957, is more critical nowadays. But he charges that there is a marked isolationist trend in Kean's record. He says much of Kean's work on the Social Security law was technical and that many times Kean voted against the basic ideas involved.

A large unspoken part of Williams' campaign is the Sherman Adams issue. Kean admits the Adams case may cost him votes, even though he was one of the first Republicans to call for Adams' resignation as President Eisenhower's top aide, after Adams was shown to have accepted favors from a friend who was in some difficulties with the government.

Both men have concentrated on personal campaigns, with little reliance on television and radio. While their schedules are basically similar, Williams relies more on rallies at union halls and fewer teas and coffee hours than Kean.

Both men travel around the state in automobile caravans led by sound trucks (Kean's unaccountably features a recording of "Happy Days Are Here Again," the New Deal theme song).

Both Kean's father and uncle were U.S. senators. His party has won every U.S. Senate election in New Jersey for the past 23 years.

Williams won election to Congress in 1953 in a district that had not elected a Democrat in the 22 years since its creation.

He was defeated for re-election in 1956 by 4,000 votes when Eisenhower piled up an 80,000-vote plurality in the district.

Both sides make standard victory predictions, but neither is overly confident. The 1954 Senate election in New Jersey was decided by 3,000 out of 1,700,000 votes, and polls so far show Kean and Williams exactly even.

Marilyn Monroe
Returns To Job
Following Illness

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Marilyn Monroe was expected back on the set of her latest movie today following a two-day absence that gave rise anew to rumors she was expecting a baby.

The blonde actress-wife of playwright Arthur Miller lost a baby in August last year and has refused to comment on the latest pregnancy rumors which sprang up Thursday and Friday when she didn't report to work in her new movie "Some Like It Hot."

However, earlier in the week she told a United Press International reporter that there was no truth to the rumors.

W. Va. Fourth
In Per Capita Income List

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The coal industry now accounts for only about 15 per cent of the personal income of West Virginians, according to figures compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

The headquarters bank of the 5th Federal Reserve District reported in its October review that West Virginia stood fourth in the area for per capita income for 1957. The average for West Virginians was listed at $1,554. North and South Carolina were lower, the District of Columbia tops.

The study said 20 per cent of the West Virginia personal income came from manufacturing wages and salaries — principally from heavy industries.

West Virginia was last in the district in the percentage of personal income paid government workers — including local, state and federal.

The total of all personal income was listed at 3.1 billion dollars for West Virginia. Only South Carolina, at 2.8 billion dollars, was lower than West Virginia in the district, although the report noted the Mountain State income "moved up sharply" in 1957.

Assault Case Against Man Before Court

Five Women Hearing
Evidence Offered
In Jury Dispute

The case against Ralph W. Parker, about 50, of Oldtown, on charges of assault with intent to kill and assault in the shooting of Branson Sisler, 71, also of Oldtown, last July 29, was begun today in Circuit Court before a jury.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris is presiding. There are five women on the jury.

Harold E. Naughton, defense attorney, told the jurors in his opening statement that his client had no intention of killing Sisler or of committing a crime because at the time of the shooting he was "stinking drunk." Parker did not have control of his mental faculties at the time due to the drinking he had done during the hours preceding the shooting, Naughton claimed.

Threats Reported
State's Attorney James S. Getty told the jurors that Parker got the shotgun and fired at Sisler after having made threats previously that he was going to kill the man.

Mrs. Hazel Sisler, wife of the man wounded, testified that Parker had been a friend of the family and when she was away from home Parker would help her husband in various chores around the place and also prepare his meals.

In answer to Naughton's question about intimations by the state that a "love affair" existed between Parker and herself, she stated: "I'm in love with you as much as I am with him." Naughton chuckled and commented: "And today is the first time you ever saw me." Mrs. Sisler said that was so.

May Take Stand
Mrs. Rose R. Stark, who had been a waitress at the Oldtown VFW Club for some time, testified that Parker was in the VFW club during the daytime the day prior to the shooting and had made threats that he was going to kill Sisler and also Hazel. Mrs. Stark said he did not give any reason except to state that "Hazel had done him dirty." The waitress also said that Parker had made similar threats on several other occasions.

Court was adjourned at noon for lunch. This afternoon several more witnesses will be heard and the case will probably go to the jury late this afternoon. The defense did not list any witnesses for its side, but Parker may be placed on the stand in his own defense.

Candidates Keeping Busy As Vote Nears

Nixon Will Make Top Address At Republican Rally

By The Associated Press
A busy and possibly explosive week is in prospect for Maryland politicians as the 1958 campaign enters the homestretch before the Nov. 4 election.

Highlighting the week will be a visit by Republican Vice President Nixon and a televised debate between GOP Sen. J. Glenn Beall and Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro.

Nixon will hold a television press conference in Baltimore Tuesday (WMAR-TV, 4:30 p.m.) and then deliver the principal speech at a 100-a-plate campaign fund-raising dinner in nearby Pikesville.

2,000 Are Expected
The Republicans expect about 2,000 dinner guests — about the same number that attended last month's Democratic dinner in the same armory when former President Harry S. Truman was the speaker.

The Beall-D'Alesandro debate will be televised Wednesday (WMAR, 8:30 p.m.) in one of a "Face to Face" series bringing various candidates together. The last in a series next week will feature gubernatorial candidates Democrat J. Millard Taves and Republican James P. Devereux.

Action on the unprecedented challenge of more than 2,000 Baltimore voters also should be decided this week. The Board of Elections Supervisors will hold hearings for the challenged voters tomorrow.

Forces of Democratic boss Jack Pollack and a rival Democratic-Republican coalition filed the challenges, contending the voters no longer live at the addresses from which they registered.

Should Answer Questions
In advance of Nixon's visit to the state, D'Alesandro issued a statement today saying the vice president "should answer some questions of vital concern to Baltimore's unemployed shipyard workers."

The mayor said Nixon should tell how it happened "that a contract for the construction of four large ships was taken away from the Bethlehem Steel Company's Baltimore shipyard, the low bidder by some $3 million dollars, and given to the West Coast."

D'Alesandro also urged Nixon to explain why "numerous federal installations have been shunted out of Maryland, with resulting loss of employment and payrolls."

"What kind of senators does Maryland have," D'Alesandro asked, "to let millions of dollars in payrolls be taken away, when Republican high prices and widespread unemployment already had brought great hardships to the people?"

Claims Modernism
D'Alesandro's opponent, Sen. Beall, yesterday described himself as more modern-minded than Maryland's other Republican senator, John Marshall Butler.

In response to a question as to why he and Butler differed on many issues, Beall described himself as a man who kept up with the temper of the times. The comment came during a Washington television interview (WTOP, City Side) D'Alesandro said he was unable to accept an invitation to appear on the program.

A group of veterans backing Devereux for governor revived a charge during the weekend that Taves abused gas rationing privileges during World War II.

The organization, which described itself as the "Veterans for Devereux Committee," said Taves lost his gasoline privileges for a year for taking a 1,600 mile auto trip to his son's wedding in Florida.

The veterans also said Taves certified to a ration board that he needed enough gasoline to drive 6,000 miles a month to perform his duties as comptroller.

But the group said the State treasurer, who had jurisdiction of cars in the comptroller's office, reported Taves could conduct his official duties on 1,600 miles a month.

Clerk's Post Created In Water Office

Routine Actions
Taken At Meeting
Of Mayor, Council

The Mayor and Council today approved creation of the position of a second clerk in the Water Department and requested the Cumberland Civil Service Commission to conduct an examination.

The action was one of a number of routine matters which came before council this morning.

In action on several bid proposals, council rejected all bids on a new and used Diesel tractor for use of the city dump. Last week it had accepted a proposal for repairing the one in operation at the dump.

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to buy a 40-ton carload of calcium chloride.

Bids Received

Council received bids on three proposals. Allen M. Sell and Son and John S. Cook and son submitted bids on a sidewalk repair project in front of the Coca-Cola Bottling Works on Greene Street. There were referred to Long and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum.

Pike's Garage, Penn-Mar Motor Company, Light and Decker Company, Rish Equipment Company of Clarksburg, and Morgan Brothers Industrial Sales of Frostburg bid on a hydraulic backhoe and front-end loader for use of the Water Department. These were referred to Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Three bids were submitted for salvage rights at the city dump. Bidding was Archie E. Price, William H. Weaver and the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company. Earlier, council had received a letter from Russell J. Collins, 505 South Street, asking salvage rights at the dump. The bids and letter were referred to Long.

Referred to Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson was power to act as the request of William Torkington and John W. Rollins Jr., to be retained as auditors for the annual city audit at $1,000 a year.

Accept Settlement

Council voted to accept the sum of $1,377.31 from Monumental Truck Rental, Inc., and Thomas Harold Whalen as full settlement for damages to a police cruiser as the result of an accident at Henderson Avenue and Frederick Street September 29, 1957. The amount represents that needed to repair the cruiser and which will be paid direct to a local garage by the insurance company. Mayor J. Edwin Keech was authorized to execute the release.

Council issued two proclamations, one naming the week of October 19-25 as "National Thrift Week" and the other naming November 11 as "Veterans Day."

In connection with the latter, council accepted an invitation from the sponsoring Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, to participate in the Veterans Day parade here. The parade will form at the State Armory at 7:30 p. m. November 11 and move at 8:30 p. m.

Police Patrol Local Churches

City, state and county authorities have lifted their police guard from two local Catholic churches.

City police, state troopers and members of the sheriff's office were assigned to St. Patrick's and SS. Peter and Paul's churches after a "bomb" threat was made last week.

Authorities said a woman telephoned one of the churches saying she was "going to bomb the church Saturday night."

The special details patrolled the churches on a 24-hour basis from Saturday until yesterday.

MEETING THE NEW PASTOR—Members of St. Mary's Catholic Church last night held a reception in honor of Rev. Charles W. Bogan who assumed his duties as pastor of the church on Saturday. Above Edward Bergman greets Father Bogan who MEN'S BROTHERHOOD CONTRIBUTES—The Men's Brotherhood of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, as a part of the church's observance of Brotherhood Sunday, contributed $400 to the building fund of St. Luke's yesterday. In addition, the organization, one of the key groups in the church, pledged an additional $1,000 toward the construction of the new edifice on Frederick Street.

Church Group Gives $400 For Building

The Men's Brotherhood of St. Luke's Lutheran Church yesterday presented $400 to the building fund of the congregation's new edifice on Frederick Street and pledged an additional $1,000.

The ceremonies were conducted as a part of Brotherhood Sunday and Leslie Brinkman, treasurer of the brotherhood, made the presentation to F. Lee Fresh, chairman of the church financial committee.

Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, observed that the brotherhood pledged $500 in July and has already raised the $400 which was given yesterday.

The full $500 pledge will be met along with the additional $1,000 that will be a part of the financing of the new edifice on Frederick Street.

The organization sponsors the annual monthly dinner-lectures by Dr. Carl Rasmussen, head of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., on the basic Christian doctrines.

The group sponsors the annual reception of new church members in May; the "welcome home" for the pastor and his family after each annual vacation, an event that attracts from 400 to 500 people; the annual "Sons of St. Luke's Night," the church's Christmas decorations, and helped to send seven young people to the national convention of the Luther League at University of Kansas last summer.

Teams from two of the men's residence halls, North Younker and South Younker, will play in the annual "classic," before a court composed of two "queens" from each of the seven women's halls.

Miss Morris, a freshman at Grinnell, is a 1958 graduate of Pottsville (Pa.) High School.

Demos To Hold Rally Tonight

A public Democratic mass meeting will be held today at 8 p. m. at Corriganville Fire Hall. Entertainment, speeches and refreshments are on the program, according to party leaders.

County Democratic candidates will attend and make brief talks.

Beautification Committee Gets Approval Of Council

At the suggestion of Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, council also approved appointment of Mrs. G. Bates

Five Hunters Pay Big Price For Turkey

Turkeys are selling in local markets for an average of 50 cents a pound.

But five hunters from the Washington suburban area paid $140 for one measly wild turkey because they were too eager and killed the bird a day before the season opened in Allegany County.

The hunters, Edward Clites, of Gaithersburg; Allen Ritch, of Bethesda; Douglas Teagle and Eugene L. Whittaker, both of Cabin John, and Richard Moore, of Greenbelt, had the turkey in their possession when arrested.

The men were tried Saturday before Magistrate Dayton Lewis at Oldtown and he assessed each one $25 and costs. They were taken into custody by Game Warden Joseph J. Keating, Fred Taylor and Lester Roberts.

The average wild turkey weighs about 10 pounds so it can be calculated that the men paid $14 per pound for their illegal bird.

Court Holds Sentencing In Abeyance

Sentencing of two men charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods was withheld today in Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris after they entered guilty pleas.

The men, Eugene Swick, 27, city, and Harry Harvey, 46, of Connellsville, Pa., were arrested in connection with the burglary at the Harris Motor Express Company warehouse August 11.

Swick, and a man named Martin Luther Hare (who is now in jail at Keyser in another case) went to the warehouse early on the morning of August 11 and after entering through a window took eight cases of cigarettes valued at $880.

Harvey, who is married and the father of nine children, accompanied the two men to Connellsville with six cases of cigarettes. Swick had hidden two cases along the old C&O Canal, according to State's Attorney James S. Getty.

It developed that Harvey was able to sell only two cases of the cigarettes and received $200 for them. Of this amount he gave a total of $110 to Swick and Hare. The men admitted to the thefts in statements October 13 to the state's attorney's office.

Harold E. Naughton, defense attorney, told the court that Harvey has never been in any previous trouble. The man has worked for 13 years for the B&O Railroad and had been furloughed much of the past six months or so and when Swick and Hare contacted him in the disposal of the cigarettes he saw a chance to make a "fast dollar," Naughton told the court.

Swick has a previous record dating back to 1945 on charges of burglary, larceny and parole violation, according to State's Attorney Getty.

Judge Harris remanded the two men to the county jail pending a pre-sentencing investigation of their backgrounds by David M. Steele, probation officer.

Richmond Driver Injured In Crash

Walter E. Fleischhauer, 32, of Richmond, Va., is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Saturday night.

Attaches said he sustained rib and back injuries in a auto accident at the intersection of South Mechanic and Williams streets.

City police, who investigated, said Fleischhauer was traveling on Mechanic Street and he failed to make a left turn and rammed into several parked cars.

Church Meeting Set

The four circles of Park Place Methodist Church will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

Long Replies To Statement On Program

Views Explained
In Paper Read To
Mayor And Council

Street Commissioner John J. Long in a letter submitted and read before the Mayor and Council today suggested that "We concentrate our time and efforts on constructive criticisms of the proposals each of us will be making from time to time and be a bit more tolerant of each other's personalities."

Long's statement was made in response to one signed by the other members of council last week in which they were critical of the procedure used by Long in presenting a proposed four-year plan for street and sewer improvement. Long was not present at today's meeting and his statement was read into the record. He is attending the National Safety Congress in Chicago as a representative of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 of which he is director of safety and plant protection.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said at this morning's meeting that within the near future when all members can be present, a meeting will be held at which the needs of all departments, not just one, will be determined and a discussion will be held on what action will be taken.

Long's statement said: "On August 6 each member of this Mayor and Council was given a copy of a report I compiled, titled 'Survey and Recommendations for Department of Streets and Public Property.' In it I presented the idea of a four-year plan. It listed the major items of the Four Year Plan and the City Engineer's estimated costs. In addition it mentioned the need of a bond issue, and I quote: 'I personally believe that the needs of the streets, alleys, and sewers, challenges this Mayor and Council. This is the opportunity to inform the people of Cumberland of the present conditions and needs of this Department and to ask them to cooperate with us in raising by referendum through a street and sewer bond issue, the necessary funds to carry out a four-year plan of street and sewer improvements. Then, when the Thruway is completed in a few years, our adjoining streets, alleys, and sewers will be as modern as the Thruway. The trend of increased automobile traffic makes such a plan a necessity. In fact, it is long overdue. The citizens of Cumberland have waited a long time for good streets, alleys and sewers, and deserve them.'

"In addition I promised that a more detailed plan would be forthcoming. On October 6, a copy of the 'Proposed Four-Year Plan for Street and Sewer Improvements' was given to each of you with the request that you study it and offer suggestions."

"On October 8 this plan was given to the press so that everybody affected by it might have an opportunity to study it and make suggestions (and this plan affects nearly every property owner in the city). The fastest and most effective way I know of getting a plan into the hands of the people is via the newspapers."

"As a result I have already made many revisions on my copy. For instance, did any of you know that Avondale Avenue has no sewer? They use septic tanks. This problem was not included in the Plan because we over looked it. The people on the street informed me of the omission after reading the proposed four year plan in the press."

"Four years is a short period of time in which to accomplish all the good that a dedicated public servant should strive towards. I am sure Mr. Mayor and members of the Council, you are each dedicated public servants or you would not have sought the headaches and responsibilities of the offices you hold."

"If in my zeal to 'Get this show on the road' I offended the four of you, I apologize."

"May I humbly suggest that we concentrate our time and efforts on constructive criticisms of the proposals each of us will be making from time to time and be a bit more tolerant of each other's personalities."

Engineer Asks Fund Release

The district engineer for the State Roads Commission has recommended that the Bureau of Public Roads release funds withheld from the state in connection with the Frederick Street improvement project.

A copy of a letter written by G. Bates Chaires was read this morning at the meeting of the Mayor and Council. Chaires pointed out he had checked the one-way street setup on Frederick and Bedford Streets and the city was complying with federal regulations on the traffic pattern.

Amount involved is $20,000. If the city had not complied with U. S. regulations for traffic on the two streets, it would have been responsible for the $20,000 withheld from the state under the urban aid project, officials pointed out.

Stealing an expression from the British, yesterday's exhibition baseball game at Penn Avenue Field between Dick Groat's barnstormers and the Pen-Mar League All-Stars can best be described by two words: "Good show!"

The Cumberland Dapper Dan Club, which sponsored the game, couldn't have asked for a better day and the six major league stars who formed the major portion of the visitors' lineup added to the pleasant afternoon with pleasing performances.

The paid attendance could have been bigger and would have been had an estimated 200 fans witnessed the game from a vantage point inside the park instead of out. But even at that, the Dapper Dans are well pleased and will make about $340 for their proposed Little League park after all expenses have been deducted. True, some fans who went to the South End field expecting to see a display of batting power on the part of the big-time stars may have been disappointed. Hyndman's Gene Stair stole their thunder in this department when he halloped the only homer of the game, a bases-loaded smash off the delivery of the Pirates' Roy Face, one of the National League's top relief pitchers.

The barnstormers' longest blow was a triple by the White Sox's Nellie Fox, the ball taking a bad hop past Stair in left.

But, without trying to belittle the Pen-Mar stars, the big leaguers gave every indication they were enjoying themselves. They talked with the fans while play was going on, and Chuck Tanner, Chicago Cub outfielder, and Pirates pitcher Ronnie Kline, who played left field yesterday, engaged in a "popularity battle." Tanner, a real baseball comedian, succeeded in getting fans in the bleachers on the first-base side in match vocal outbursts with Kline's favorites in the third-base seats. Although no applause meter was available, Tanner seemed to have a slight edge.

Autograph-seekers never had it so good. They didn't have to wait until the game was over, as all through the contest the baseball stars willingly signed their names. In fact, Kline allowed the bottom of the sixth to start without a left fielder because he was busy in foul territory with a score or more of youngsters. He finally got into the act with a 1-2 count on the batter.

Fox and Groat, recognized as two of the best all-around infielders in baseball today, were the biggest targets of the souvenir hunters, although all of the barnstormers got good work with the pens and pencils.

The Pen-Mar team wasn't expected to win the game but the barnstormers were impressed by the battle the area stars put up. They liked the gritty pitching of Bobby Raines, the fine defensive play of the second-base combination of Barney Spearman and Denny Shuck, and of course, the bat work of Stair.

Tanner, after the game, opined that the local team was the best of the six barnstormers met. They were, incidentally, victorious in all six, defeating Newcastle, Pa., 7-0; a team of minor league stars at Youngstown, Ohio, 6-5; McConellsburg, Pa., 6-1; Newton-Hamilton, Pa., 15-4; and Chambersburg, Pa., 11-9.

Hyndman's Rob Bryant, who managed the Pen-Mar stars, came in for particular praise from Tanner. "Your team played smart ball throughout. You could tell that the man who was running it knew his baseball and I wish you would extend my regards to him for a job well done the next time you see him," Tanner declared.

Groat, whose popularity in Cumberland seems to increase with every visit, got the biggest ovation of all when he stepped to the plate the first time. He hit an even 300 for the 1958 season, while Jerry Lynch, Cincinnati Redleg outfielder who proved immensely popular with the youngsters yesterday, finished with a .312 mark.

All of the major leaguers with the exception of Face, who retired after the first two innings, played several different positions to the delight of the fans. Face came here with a cold and sore throat but insisted on pitching some because it had been advertised that he would be the starting hurler.

It was a shame that Cumberland couldn't have played host to the big leaguers with a more presentable park. The local diamond, according to several of the big leaguers, was the worst of the six that they played on during the short barnstorming trip.

Two Sunday's ago Fox played for Mickey Mantle's All-Stars against Willie Mays' National Leaguers at Yankee Stadium. A week later to the day, Nellie was showing his stuff at Penn Avenue (Continued on Page 11)

Title-Minded Colts, Browns Stay Unbeaten

Shattering NFL Jinxes Good Omen For Leaders

By EARL WRIGHT

The Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts may gallop to the National Football League's division titles because they are shattering jinxes the way sleet shooters bust clay pigeons.

Cleveland took a two-game lead in the Eastern race Sunday and boosted its record to 4-0 by whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers, 27-10. The Browns took a 59-14 wallop from the Detroit Lions in the 1957 championship game.

Since 1933, all the title game losers have bowed by huge margins and folded completely the following season. But the Browns, rolling behind Milt Plum's passing plus Jim Brown's running, act as though they really won that last title game and figure to shatter a jinx that has haunted championship game victims in recent years.

Baltimore clobbered the Lions, defending league and Western division titleholders, 40-14. The victory enabled the Colts to retain their one-game Western Division lead and gave them a vital mental boost. It was the first victory the Colts ever scored at Detroit.

They marked the first time they have swept their first four games during a season.

Cards Upset Giants

While Detroit (0-3-1) lost virtually all hope of retaining its title, the Chicago Cardinals gave the Browns a big assist by upsetting the New York Giants, 23-6. The Giants, who started the day with a game behind Cleveland, now are tied for second at 2-2 with the Cardinals and Washington Redskins, who defeated the Green Bay Packers, 37-21.

The Chicago Bears remained close behind Baltimore and took undisputed second place in the Western race by defeating the visiting Los Angeles Rams, 31-10. Los Angeles entered the game tied with the Bears and slipped to a third-place deadlock with the San Francisco Forty-Niners at 2-2. The Bears have a 3-1 record.

San Francisco, with John Brodie throwing scoring passes to Hugh McElhenny and Clyde Conner, stopped a last-minute Philadelphia Eagle rally for a 30-24 victory in the other game. The six contests drew 279,390 fans with the top crowd of 66,852 registered at Cleveland.

Brown Runs Wild

The Steelers shocked this big crowd by taking a first-period lead on Tom Tracy's 64-yard touchdown pass to Ray Mathews but the Cleveland defense throttled them the rest of the way. Plum threw touchdown passes to Brown, Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell. Brown, who may prove to be the most versatile fullback in NFL history, also ran 48 yards for a touchdown and gained 153 yards in 19 tries to boost his league-leading rushing total to 635. Brown is more than halfway to Steve Van Buren's one-season record of 1,146 yards.

The Lions started their title drive last year when they scored twice in the final seconds of the fourth game for a 31-27 triumph over the Colts at Detroit. The Lions and 55,190 rooters had visions of a similar finish Sunday when Yale Lary raced 71 yards with a fourth quarter punt to cut Baltimore's margin to 20-14. But the "new" Colts reacted by scoring three more touchdowns, Johnny Moore ran 11 for one, John Units passed 37 to Jim Mutschler for another and Leonard Lyles ran 27 to score on the game's final play.

Billy Wade of the Rams completed his second pass to Del Shofner for 92 yards and a touchdown, the longest scoring pass of the NFL season, but the Bears and penalties shackled Los Angeles after that outburst. Willie Galimore scored twice for the Bears and now has seven 1958 touchdowns.

McLean Leads Cardinals

Lamar McLean came off the bench in the second quarter and with every visit, got the biggest ovation of all when he stepped to the plate the first time. He hit an even 300 for the 1958 season, while Jerry Lynch, Cincinnati Redleg outfielder who proved immensely popular with the youngsters yesterday, finished with a .312 mark.

All of the major leaguers with the exception of Face, who retired after the first two innings, played several different positions to the delight of the fans. Face came here with a cold and sore throat but insisted on pitching some because it had been advertised that he would be the starting hurler.

It was a shame that Cumberland couldn't have played host to the big leaguers with a more presentable park. The local diamond, according to several of the big leaguers, was the worst of the six that they played on during the short barnstorming trip.

ALL-STAR ATTRACTION—Members of the Dick Groat All-Stars gave the more than 1,500 fans yesterday at Penn Avenue Field three hours of baseball when they defeated the Pen-Mar All-Stars, 10-7. The barnstormers, who finished unbeaten in six games, are shown with Christ Charuhas (front row, third from right), Dapper Dan president, and Bill Keegan (back row, second from right), promoter of the game which was staged for the benefit of a Little League park in the city. Shown (front row)

Groat Stars Win Here

Gene Stair Belts Jackpot Homer In Losing Cause

There is a facial resemblance, so they say, between Gene Stair and Mickey Mantle.

The Hyndman baseball star also acted like a Mickey Mantle yesterday when he blasted a bases-loaded homer and all but stole the show as the Pen-Mar All-Stars dropped a 10-7 decision to Dick Groat's barnstormers at Penn Avenue Field.

The grand-slammer came in the second inning at the expense of Roy Face, great relief star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who pitched the first two frames despite a cold and sore throat.

Stair, who several years ago, played Class A ball as a Pirate farm hand, sent a 300-foot smash high over the short right-field fence with Barney Spearman, Joe Glass and Bobby Raines on board.

Spearman had reached first on an error, Glass walked and Raines beat out an infield hit. The jackpot clout gave the Pen-Mar stars a 4-1 lead that held up until the fifth when Nellie Fox and Groat scored to make the count 5 to 4. Four more runs by the barnstormers in the sixth sewed it up.

Six Big Leaguers Play

A crowd of more than 1,500, basking under a 65-degree autumn sun on a cloudless afternoon, was on hand as the barnstormers took the field with six 1958 major leaguers and two former "big top" performers in the lineup.

Groat and Fox, key men in the respective second-place showings of the Pirates in the National League and the Chicago White Sox in the American, scored seven of the winners' ten runs. He had a single in addition to Fox, who led off, was on base his four-bagger. Denny Shuck, every time. He hit a triple and Zihlman, clouted a single, was hit with pitched balls, triple. Spearman, Zihlman twice and reached first on an error-second-sacker, turned in two runs. Groat, the No. 2 hitter, nifty putouts of hard-hit balls, cracked four straight singles and Tanner being the victim each batted in three runs, before time.

Welterweight Winner Seen Meeting Akins

Autograph seekers had a "field day" and the visiting players gladly affixed their signatures to programs, paper bags, baseballs and pieces of paper.

It was the final game of six played by the barnstormers who won them all. Christ Charuhas, president of the local Dapper Dan Club, had the honor of pitching the first ball which was received by Earl Nonnenmann, president of the Pen-Mar League.

Jordan, 24, won a disputed, split decision over the aggressive Mexican Sept. 17 in running his winning streak to four. Ortega carried the fight all the way to Jordan in the first fight and many observers felt he deserved the verdict.

Ortega, 23, was the top-ranking welterweight contender until he was upset by Jordan. Now Gaspar is ranked third by Ring Magazine and fourth by the NBA. Jordan is ranked second among the lightweights by the NBA and first among the welters by Ring.

Promoter George Parnassos of Los Angeles expects to pit the winner against welterweight king Virgil Akins in a title fight at Los Angeles Dec. 5.

Sonny Liston, Philadelphia's heavyweight contender, aims for his 15th straight victory Friday night at St. Louis against Bert Whitehurst of Baltimore in a television 10-rounder.

Pirates, Braves Each Land Three All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI)—The champion Milwaukee Braves and the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates placed three players each today on the United Press International's 1958 National League all-star team.

Pitcher Warren Spahn, catcher Del Crandall and outfielder Hank Aaron were the Braves honored while pitcher Bob Friend, second baseman Bill Mazeroski and third baseman Frank Thomas were the Pirates chosen.

The remainder of the 10-man squad, eight regulars and two pitchers, was composed of first baseman Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and outfielders Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies. The Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs were not represented on the squad.

Spahn, Banks and Mays were unanimous choices and Aaron missed by only one vote in the poll of 24 baseball writers, three from each city in the league. Crandall was named on 22 ballots, Friend and Mazeroski on 20 each, Ashburn on 16 and Musial on 14.

The closest vote was for the third baseman, Thomas winning with 13 votes compared to nine for Ken Boyer of the Cardinals and two for Ed Mathews of the Braves. Orlando Cepeda of the Giants polled 10 votes for first base to make the best showing of any rookie.

The three unanimous choices—Spahn, Banks and Mays—were in the headlines practically daily in the league's first coast-to-coast season.

Automobile shows were introduced in the United States in 1900.

Colts Greeted By 4,000 Fans

BALTIMORE (AP)—More than 4,000 football fans greeted the undefeated Baltimore Colts at Friendship International Airport last night a few hours after the team's 40-14 victory over the Detroit Lions.

But the fans saw more of the 30 policemen on hand for the welcoming celebration than they did of the players.

The officers kept the crowd in check until most of the Colts had disappeared into waiting cars. Among those allowed up the ramp to greet the players was Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro.

Last week some of the estimated 8,000 who greeted the Colts got out of hand, tossing fireworks and assaulting policemen. Last night one man was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Mr. T. A. Mellon (above) of Hollidaysburg, Pa., gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Erickson free hair and scalp examination and re-grew his hair.

RETURN FOR THE 6TH YEAR TO SHOW HOW TO SAVE HAIR AND PREVENT BALDNESS

CHICAGO — For the 6th consecutive year representatives of the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists are returning to your state. Why delay longer in carrying out your resolution to "Do something about your hair." (Do not be one of the millions who are bald because they did nothing.)

Tomorrow, Tuesday only, October 21, in Cumberland, Maryland, at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, Staff Director J. L. Thomas, representing the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists have long been a leader in the field of combating hair loss. Now, we are announcing a new, even more successful home treatment, ready for easy application in the privacy of your own home.

What Causes Baldness? How many times have you heard men attempt to explain their loss of hair with one of these remarks:

"Oh, baldness runs in my family, so I just have to accept it." or "Well, it's natural for a man to lose his hair as he gets along in years" . . . or "If you're going to be bald, you're going to be bald, and there's nothing you can do about it."

So many men have said such things for so many hundreds of years, that these old ideas are still widely circulated. But they are not supported by modern knowledge.

True, some few men do inherit a scalp structure that may predispose to early baldness. But any such tendency can be overcome by proper hair care.

As for the excuse of age, it is established now that men's hair naturally grows fastest in the years from 35 to 65. And certainly much can be done to stop hair loss, as the careful records kept by Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists prove.

Actually, the two most common causes for baldness are neglect and mistreatment of the hair.

Your hair is in better condition today than it will be next month or even next week. When you first notice your hair thinning, brought on usually by dandruff, itching, dryness, oiliness or follicles clogged with sebum or scorching, take positive action at once. See the fam-

Marlboro Fire Brings Death To 28 Horses

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—Fire raced through a large stable at Marlboro Race Track yesterday, trapping and killing at least 26 horses in their stalls. Two others were so badly burned they had to be shot.

About 27 other horses were injured.

Wind-whipped flames destroyed two barns and damaged two others at the half-mile track southeast of Washington.

Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

Eight years ago 22 horses died at Marlboro in a fire which destroyed two barns.

Racing To Continue

Marlboro officials said racing would continue at the track this week.

In yesterday's fire, flames leaped from one barn to another as firemen from 12 companies fought for an hour to bring the blaze under control.

Track officials said they would probably have an exact casualty list today.

One of the horses lost was New Dice which was shot when it ran amok, blinded and rolling in the grass to smother its flaming blanket.

Among the other horses known to have been in the burned barns was Songai, which set a new track record for a mile and a sixteenth last Monday, and Starward Bound, which won the first race Saturday.

Listed among the dead animals were Ensign Pat, Miss Tiana, Top Take, Buckeye Mike, Coffee Run and Cockade.

Cause Undetermined

Two policemen said the fire started in the large barn's east end, where the tack room is located.

Prince Georges County Fire Marshal Lawrence R. Woltz said a charred electric hot plate was found in the ashes of the tack room. He said cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Edward Farrell, track president, said there were about 350 horses on the grounds, most of them at the other end of the track from the fire.

Twenty horses were freed from the second destroyed barn. The two damaged barns were empty.

A fireman, Richard Maxwell, 22, of Seat Pleasant, received a possible ankle fracture when a wall fell. Ben Schwartz, 33, of Morning side, suffered a possible broken arm when he was kicked by a horse he was trying to round up.

Low-Scoring Terps To Face Tough Auburn

By The Associated Press

For a football team that hasn't scored in three of its five games, Maryland faces a forbidding prospect next Saturday at Auburn.

Last year's national champion was tied 7-7 by Georgia Tech Saturday and it was only the second time Auburn had been scored upon in four games. At the same time, Maryland was smothered 27-0 by North Carolina for its fourth loss.

Navy has a much better chance of coming back after its first loss, 14-6 to Tulane. The Middles go to Penn.

Johns Hopkins Unbeaten

Johns Hopkins, only undefeated team in the state, starts competition in the Mason-Dixon conference with Hampden-Sydney. Western Maryland also is home with Kings College.

Morgan goes to West Virginia State and Maryland State to North Carolina College.

Johns Hopkins will be going after victory No. 4 after outscoring Haverford 36-24. Morgan's 48-0 triumph over Howard was the only other victory scored by state teams last Saturday.

Western Maryland took its third licking in four games, 22-6 from Hampden-Sydney. Maryland State was nosed out 16-14 for the second straight week by North Carolina A & T.

Maryland now is on the threshold of doing no better than in its first season of 1956 under Coach Tommy Mont. That year, the Terps won only two games and scored only 11 touchdowns in 10 games.

Stoutest Defense

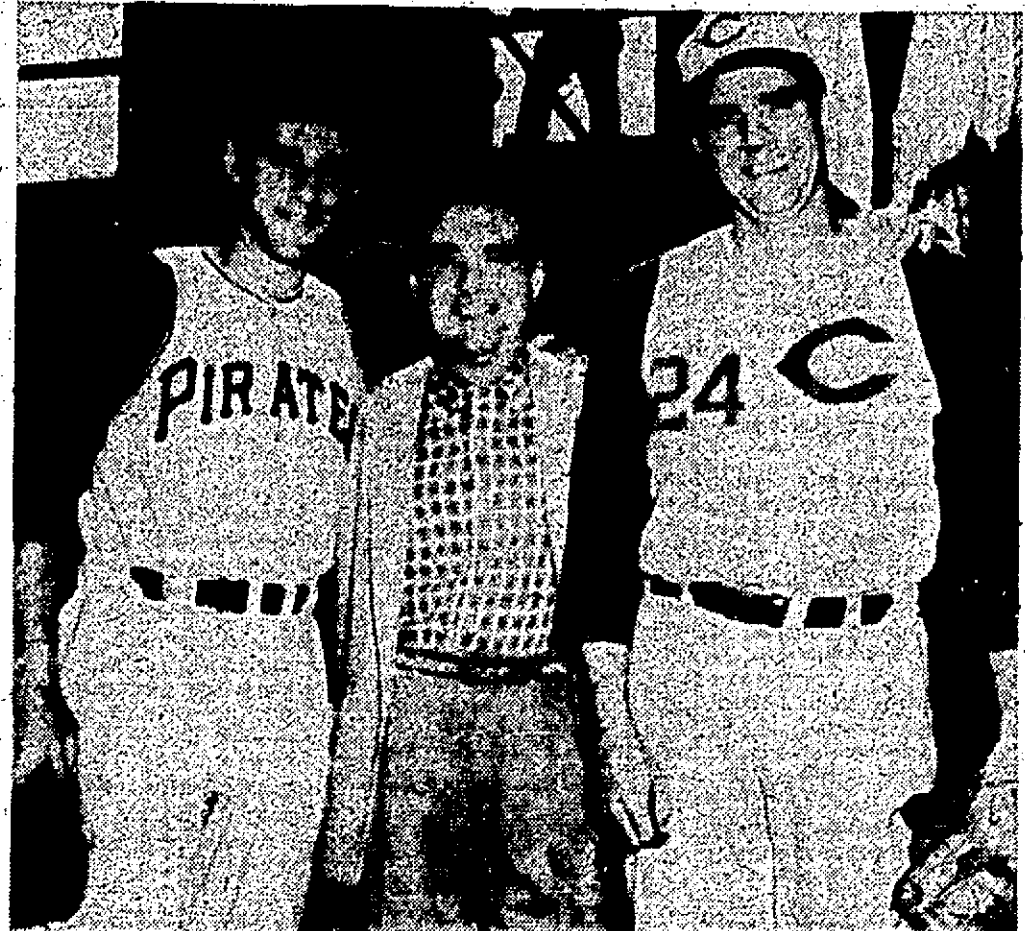

Auburn, with one of the stoutest defenses in the country and undefeated in its last 17 games, makes Mont's chances of recouping this week remote.

Before being tied by Georgia Tech, Auburn had beaten and shut out Tennessee and Kentucky. It (2-2) in their traditional "Big Thursday" game. Texas faces Rice (3-2). Mississippi appears to have an easy one in Arkansas (0-5). Louisiana State takes on Florida (2-1-1). Colorado plays Idaho State (3-1) and Rutgers meets Lehigh (2-1-1), all on Saturday afternoon or night.

Army stuck to straight football against Virginia, piling up 316 yards rushing and 141 passing. The Cadets scored on drives of 73, 68, 66 and 95 yards before adding a fifth touchdown on an interception. The Cavaliers did manage to suggest an Army weakness in pass defense, though, by completing 18 of 33 tosses.

Charges Rough Stuff

Fullback Bob White scored Ohio State's first four touchdowns in a game enlivened by Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes' charge for the second straight week that the

Nine Teams Stay Unbeaten After Weekend Of Upsets

By FRED DOWN United Press International

A corporal's guard of nine major college football teams retain unbeaten and untied records today—and no less than three have what could be their toughest tests of the season coming up next Saturday.

The season's biggest wave of upsets kayoed six major perfect record teams Saturday, and claimed four of the nation's six top-rated teams. Army and Ohio State upheld their No. 1 and No. 4 rankings with ease but second-ranked Auburn's 17-game winning streak was ended by the 7-7 tie with Georgia Tech and third-ranked Wisconsin, fifth-ranked Michigan State and sixth-ranked Navy all were upset.

Army and Ohio State head the perfect record list, of course, followed by Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana State, Clemson, Colorado, Northwestern and Rutgers. Those bounced off the list Saturday were Wisconsin, Houston, College of Pacific, Auburn, Dartmouth and Navy.

But there's no rest ahead for any of the still-unblemished nine—and that goes double for Army, Ohio State and Northwestern.

Army Faces Pitt

Army, easy 35-6 victor over Virginia, next faces a rugged Pittsburgh team which beat West Virginia, 15-8, Saturday and has a 4-1 season record. Ohio State takes on Wisconsin which will be sharply on the rebound, and Northwestern, a sensational 55-24 winner over Michigan, opposes Iowa, Iowa, ranked No. 13, blitzed Wisconsin, 20-8, Saturday in one of the day's most significant upsets. Ohio State, of course, walloped Indiana, 49-8.

Clemson will be the first of the unblemished teams to put its record on the line this week, the Tigers playing South Carolina (2-2) in their traditional "Big Thursday" game. Texas faces Rice (3-2). Mississippi appears to have an easy one in Arkansas (0-5). Louisiana State takes on Florida (2-1-1). Colorado plays Idaho State (3-1) and Rutgers meets Lehigh (2-1-1), all on Saturday afternoon or night.

Army stuck to straight football against Virginia, piling up 316 yards rushing and 141 passing. The Cadets scored on drives of 73, 68, 66 and 95 yards before adding a fifth touchdown on an interception. The Cavaliers did manage to suggest an Army weakness in pass defense, though, by completing 18 of 33 tosses.

Falcons, Tech Tangle In Top WVIC Contest

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia Tech and defending champion Fairmont collide at Montgomery Saturday in a game that will go a long way toward deciding the West Virginia Conference football title.

Other league games find Davis & Elkins at Concord; West Liberty at Wesleyan and Salem-Glenville at West Union.

In non-loop contests Shepherd is at Newport News, Va., Anderson, Ind., at Bethany and Morgan State at West Virginia State.

Upsets Prevalent

Upsets were prevalent on the weekend as Tech; Potomac and West Liberty fell victim.

Tech's once tied Golden Bears lost to Shepherd 20-14. D&E topped Potomac 20-6 for its second victory in three years and Concord outlasted West Liberty 14-6.

Meanwhile, Fairmont downed Salem 26-7, West Virginia State and Bluefield State fought to a scoreless tie and John Carroll rallied to beat Bethany 25-16.

Shepherd scored the deciding touchdown against Tech with less than four minutes to play. It came on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Jack Potts to fullback Elmo Hodge. Hodge scored the Rams' first TD on a 62 yard gallop in the first period to get things started. Red Weese crossed the goal line twice for Tech.

Cats' Guard Scores

Dean Barker, Bill Knox and Chick Rao scored to pace Davis & Elkins to its second victory since the resumption of football in 1955. Guard Jack Sheppard scored the Potomac touchdown when he picked up a D&E fumble and raced 35 yards to paydirt.

Denny Kriss scored two touchdowns and Paul Mounts converted twice to help Concord beat West Liberty and record its first win of the season. The Mountain Lions scored both touchdowns in the first half and held off all but one West Liberty scoring drive. It came in the third period.

Dick Newbrough scored one touchdown and set up another in the first quarter to spark a Fairmont win over Salem. The Tigers pushed across a tally in the third quarter to make it 13-7, but Fairmont retaliated with a TD in the third period and one in the fourth.

John Carroll halfback Lou Thomas scored twice in the final five minutes of play to hand Bethany its third straight loss.

Colts Run Point So Donovan Can Get Game Ball

DETROIT (AP)—After the Baltimore Colts scored on the last play of the game yesterday in their 40-14 rout of the Detroit Lions, they lined up for the extra point attempt in running formation.

The attempt failed, but the Colts accomplished their mission of keeping the game ball for presentation to tackle Art Donovan.

"If we had tried to place kick the point," Coach Webb Ewbank said, "in all probability the ball would have carried into the stands behind the goal posts."

The players decided to give the ball to Donovan. He is the only remaining member of the original National Football League Colts and the player who had waited the longest for Baltimore's first victory in Detroit.

Cardinals Given Tokyo Welcome

TOKYO (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals, including newly appointed manager Solly Hemus and Stan Musial, arrived in two different planes at Tokyo International Airport today for a 16-game series in Japan at the invitation of the Mainichi newspapers.

The Cardinals were given an enthusiastic reception at the airport by Japanese fans who last saw a major league team when the Dodgers toured Japan in 1956. The Cardinals are scheduled to play their first game in Japan on Friday.

West Virginia To Play VPI On Saturday

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University's football team, heartened with an outstanding performance in a 15-8 loss to old rival Pitt, was preparing for its second Southern Conference game of the season.

The Mountaineers opened the season with a 66-22 romp over Richmond but have since dropped four games in a row.

The foe is Virginia Tech, a team that features seven West Virginians on its roster, including ace quarterback Billy Holselaw of Charleston.

Late Drive Halted

WVU was thwarted in a last minute comeback against Pitt when Panther quarterback Ivan Tonic grabbed a Chuck Simpson pass in the end zone on the last play Saturday in Pittsburgh.

The VPI-West Virginia 10th annual Tobacco Festival contest will be at Richmond, Va., and televised regionally.

Tech fell 28-0 Saturday to Florida State University at Tallahassee while West Virginia was trying to pull a major upset by beating Pitt, a two-touchdown favorite.

The Mountaineers, in seeking their 26th consecutive Southern Conference win, must contain Holselaw, the VPI squad has six other West Virginians, including Ed (Barty) Bartrug, Duncan Holselaw and Rod McGinnis, all of Charleston, Rickey Tolley of Mullens, Charley Blankenship of Bluefield and Warren Morris of Roncove.

Need Triumph

The Mountaineers need a victory over the Gobblers to stay in the race for the conference championship and to snap the losing streak that started with a 47-14 loss to the Sooners last week. The late threat was ignited by Danny Williams and Simpson.

Mouser Last 'Bureau-cat' To Get Pay

LONDON (AP) — The last bureau-cat in the service of the British government is Peter, official mouser of the Home Office. Peter is on the ministry's payroll at 6 pounds 10 shillings ($18.20).

This pay, in reality an expense allowance, has just been increased due to rising costs.

Government cats used to serve in most ministries.

The Home Office got down a file marked "Office cats, maintenance" to get Peter's history.

"It says here," the spokesman droned, "Peter joined the Home Office staff when he was a kitten 10 years ago."

What's Peter's score for mice? "We don't keep statistics. But everyone seems satisfied that he does his job well."

What happens when Peter dies? "We don't entertain the idea here."

As long as men can remember there always has been a Peter in the Home Office.

Always black.

That popular American plan—installment buying—has caught on in Austria and has boosted consumer sales tremendously.

Teacher Unit Backing Plan For Pay Raise

Devereux Holds To Stand Regarding "Blackjack" Methods

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's two candidates for governor are wrangling over just what James P. Devereux meant in his "black-jacking" statement to state teachers.

Meanwhile, the teachers themselves are on record in favor of a $400 salary boost and they want to have it financed by an increase in the State classroom subsidy from $1,000 per unit to $1,400.

The salary resolution received heavy support from the representative assembly of the Maryland State Teachers Assn. this week-end. A companion resolution obviously referred to Devereux.

Confidant in Teachers

It reaffirmed confidence in association leaders and their efforts to obtain a State-supported pay raise.

Devereux told the association Friday that "as a blunt instrument for the blackjacking of legislators its days are surely numbered."

Milton S. Raver, executive secretary of the association, said afterward he felt the teachers favored Devereux's Democratic opponent, J. Millard Tawes.

Tawes said he deplored Devereux's statement, saying it stems from "the vocabulary of gangsters and hoodlums" and "is shameful in the mouth of one who seeks the state's highest office." He called on his Republican rival to apologize to the teachers.

Devereux stood his ground. He said yesterday "my opponent has joined the chief lobbyist of the Maryland State Teachers Assn. to convert that professional group into a political organization."

In addition to Tawes, Devereux was referring to Raver.

Will Destroy Group

"If anything can destroy the association as a whole," the Republican nominee said, "it will be found in the current drive of Mr. Tawes and Mr. Raver to make the association an appendage of the Pollack-controlled faction of Mr. Tawes' Party."

In recent statements, Devereux has accused Tawes of being dominated by the forces of Baltimore Democratic leader James (Jack) Pollack.

In defending his position on the teachers pay, Devereux said he was not attacking the teachers but "the methods used by the paid lobbyists of the association."

He opposes having the State foot the bill for teachers pay raises and says it couldn't be done without increasing taxes. Tawes believes no additional taxes would be needed for the salary raises.

The three-day annual teachers convention ended Saturday. Some 16,000 Maryland teachers attended.

Upsurge In Vote Interest Is Reported

Leaders Of Both Parties Hopeful In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The state chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties said today they have noted an upsurge in voter interest from a very apathetic attitude in many sections of West Virginia a few weeks ago.

Republican State Chairman Daniel L. Louchery, exuding confidence in the outcome of the Nov. 4 general election, said he thought the GOP "was getting stronger all the time."

"I have noticed a great change in the past two weeks," the Clarksburg attorney said. "The apathy is disappearing now."

Ready To Work

Recalling some intra-party squabbling in the early days of the campaign, Louchery said "a lot of the discontent and dissatisfaction is disappearing now. They're all ready to work together."

Democratic State Chairman H. C. Smith of Beckley said that from "all indications" Democratic candidates for major offices "are running ahead."

However, cautioning the Democratic faithful against "over-optimism" in the final stages of the campaign, Smith said the Democrats "have got to run scared."

"We can't win with polls," Smith said. "We've got to win with votes."

Smith said he believes the Democrats "have all the issues" but added that it won't do the party any good "if the voters are sitting by the fireside just talking about them on election day."

Both parties have out-of-state political prominent scheduled to appear on behalf of West Virginia candidates during these final two weeks of the campaign.

The To Speak

The big gun for the Republicans will be President Eisenhower himself. The President is scheduled to make a 40-minute stop at Kanawha Airport in Charleston next Monday.

Another GOP feature will be a television address over a hookup of several stations Thursday night by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood. This will precede a Republican rally that night in Charleston to be addressed by Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell will speak at Wheeling Wednesday.

The Democrats have National Chairman Paul M. Butler speaking in Follansbee tonight. This marks his second appearance in West Virginia in a week and his third during the campaign. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon will speak in Fairmont Wednesday while the party's senatorial campaign chairman Sen. George Smathers of Florida will make speeches Thursday in the Wheeling area and in Marlinton.

He is survived by his widow and four sons.

Funeral services will be conducted here Wednesday.

Parking meter receipts the week of October 12 totaled $735.45 compared to $847.55 the week of October 5, a decrease of $112.10, Inspector Harry Whisner reported to the Mayor and Council today.

Police said the victim was 25-year-old Merle W. Hill, who died a few minutes after being taken to Mercy Hospital yesterday with a butcher knife wound in the abdomen.

West Virginia Man Held For Assault Case

Melvin Simmons, 34, is being held in the Mineral County Jail at Keyser under $5,000 bond on a charge of felonious assault.

Simmons was committed to jail Saturday after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Madelyn Bazzle.

An Elk Garden man is a patient in Newton D. Baker VA Center, Martinsburg, W. Va., suffering from a gunshot wound in his ankle sustained in a shooting which occurred in that Mineral County community on Thursday.

He is Bryan Shillingburg, about 30, who was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland prior to being sent to the VA center.

Simmons is charged with felonious assault, according to Miss Bazzle, who said Simmons is being held for action of the Mineral County grand jury, which will convene tomorrow.

Sheriff W. O. Mott said a 30.06 rifle was used in the shooting, but authorities declined to relate further details.

Three Killed In Accidents On Highways

Maryland Fatality Toll Rises To 384; Less Than In 1957

By The Associated Press

Two pedestrians and a motorist were killed in weekend accidents to boost Maryland's 1958 traffic fatality toll to 384. The total is 59 less than the 443 killed through the same period a year ago.

In addition to the highway deaths, Daniel W. Peachey, 30-year-old Oakland farmer, was killed Saturday when his tractor upset near Gortner.

One of the pedestrians fatally injured was identified through pawn tickets found on his body as Francis LeBlanc of Washington, D. C.

State Police said truck driver Paul H. Jones, 28, of Winston-Salem, N. C. reported the man had been walking along the right side of U.S. 40 near North East early Saturday, when he suddenly turned into the path of the tractor-trailer. Jones was released after questioning.

Antonio Scarpello, 26, of Baltimore, was the other pedestrian killed. He was struck early Sunday as he crossed a street about two blocks from his home. The driver of the car was Gary F. Straley, 20, of Bel Air.

Another Saturday victim was Thomas G. Dodson, 36, of Sparks. He was fatally injured in a two-car collision on the Baltimore County Beltway.

Eight Marines from Camp Lejeune, N. C. were injured on U.S. 301 near Gambrills Saturday when their car struck the back of another car, then crashed into a utility pole and overturned.

The driver of the Marines' car, 19-year-old Richard G. Gardner of Schenectady, N. Y. was admitted to Fort Meade's base hospital in serious condition. Joseph Pazos, 18, of New York, suffered a fractured pelvis, and the other six Marines were released after treatment.

David Smallwood, 23, of Gambrills, the other driver, was not hurt. Both Smallwood and Gardner were charged with reckless driving.

Juveniles To Get Hearings In Rifle Shooting Case

Three West Side youngsters given a hearing in Juvenile Court for being delinquent

The 14-year-old admitted firing his rifle in the direction of the railroad Diesel locomotive.

Earlier this month the youngsters shot out a number of panes of glass in the office of the John I. Vandegrift Company at Ridge-dale Terrace, where the new armory is being built. A few windows in the armory were shot out, according to police, who said the boys also shot at the water tower in that vicinity.

About two weeks ago, Detective Morrissey said, one of the boys took four boxes of .22 shells from a local store.

The parents of the owner of the gun said they were unaware their son had taken the rifle from the house.

The annual fall bazar of SS. Peter and Paul parish will be held tomorrow and Wednesday.
